Dear Cincinnati Bell Yellow Pages:

We have been selling campers, recreational vehicles and accessories in the Amelia area for ten years. Six months ago, we started advertising on the Internet. The added exposure that we have acquired by launching our Web site has helped us reach a broader audience.

Recently, we closed a very large sale with a customer from an area we would never have reached by just being in the phone book. This one sale alone has proven that being on the Internet is a tremendous revenue generator.

The Internet has taken us to the next level and surpassed all of our expectations. I recommend advertising on the Internet to anyone who wants to reach a larger audience.

Sincerely,

Fairway Motor Company
